(Kathryn A. Ahern, Assistant Professor of Education; Patricia A. Sellers, Assistant Professor of Education)

School of Education

Our thematic unit was created with a totally integrated curriculum in mind. The use of technology was demonstrated in the formation of a Internet web page and a slide show, including appropriate software for use in the mathematics portion of the unit. Detailed science and mathematics lesson plans are supplemented with suggestions and extensions for language arts, music, art, and social studies. This unit will be extremely valuable for the teacher of a second grade class interested in studying butterflies.
