

Indiana University – Purdue University Fort Wayne
Opus: Research & Creativity at IPFW

---

2011 IPFW Student Research and Creative
Endeavor Symposium

IPFW Student Research and Creative Endeavor
Symposium

---

4-9-2011

A Comparison of Two Cities

Kelsey Gabbard

Indiana University - Purdue University Fort Wayne

Jessica Geyer

Indiana University - Purdue University Fort Wayne

Follow this and additional works at: http://opus.ipfw.edu/stu\_symp2011

Part of the Urban Studies and Planning Commons

---

Recommended Citation

Kelsey Gabbard and Jessica Geyer (2011). A Comparison of Two Cities.
http://opus.ipfw.edu/stu\_symp2011/2

This Presentation is brought to you for free and open access by the IPFW Student Research and Creative Endeavor Symposium at Opus: Research & Creativity at IPFW. It has been accepted for inclusion in 2011 IPFW Student Research and Creative Endeavor Symposium by an authorized administrator of Opus: Research & Creativity at IPFW. For more information, please contact admin@lib.ipfw.edu.

A Comparison of Two Cities
Kelsey Gabbard and Jessica Geyer
Dr. Melanie Bookout
Chapman Scholars Program
Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne

A community is the soul of a city. It is what makes each city special. Having pride in one's home is very important, and becoming familiar with the community how it can be accomplished. For this project, we compared and contrasted Fort Wayne to a city with a very well-known community--Chicago, Illinois. After taking a trip to Chicago and experiencing the community there, we returned to Fort Wayne and mirrored those activities. We examined four areas unique to each city: food, art, music, and architecture. Through pictures and accounts of personal experience, we will analyze and present what these areas imply in terms of the unique community and culture of Chicago and Fort Wayne. In the end, we discovered that the soul of Fort Wayne can be just as charismatic and lively as the famous Windy City, and that there is plenty to take pride in, and we seek to prove that thesis.